

Lemon Tea Tree Oil

Cat. No. EXTZ-379

Lot. No. (See product label)

Introduction

Description Contrary to common misconception, lemon tea tree essential oil is not a blend of lemon and tea tree oils but in fact, comes from a separate plant altogether. It is extracted from the lemon-scented tea tree shrub, native to Australia, New Zealand and Southeast Asia. Traditionally used to treat skin irritations, lemon tea tree oil is now used primarily as a cleaning product and natural air freshener. Lemon tea tree also has insect-repellent properties and can naturally discourage pests such as mosquitoes from entering the home. Botanical Name: Leptospermum Petersonii
