Introduction

Description

Eupatorium extract is a water-soluble powdered extract product obtained by treating the above-ground part of Pelargonium, a plant of the Asteraceae family, retaining the original components of the plant. Eupatorium extract has anticancer, anti-inflammatory, and antipathogenic microbial effects. In the summer eupatorium can protect against heat and treat mosquito bites. In Korea, China, and Asian countries, eupatorium has been used as an herbal remedy for a variety of ailments. Eupatorium has anti-metastatic, anti-angiogenic, anti-inflammatory, antibacterial, and antioxidant activities and is active against malignant metastatic cancer in humans.
