

Trichoderma reesei (feed grade)

Cat. No. TRFG-100

Lot. No. (See product label)

Introduction

Description Trichoderma reesei is a multicellular eukaryotic microorganism, an asexual form of Hypocrea jecorina, belonging to the genus Trichoderma of the order Argospora.

Applications1. Improve the conversion of nutrients in feed raw materials, improve the digestion and metabolism of raw materials, and improve animal production performance. 2. Increase the secretion and activity of endogenous enzymes, promote the digestion and absorption of nutrients, and improve feed utilization. 3. Promote the growth of beneficial bacteria in the intestines of animals to inhibit the reproduction of harmful bacteria, effectively improve the physical fitness of animals, and effectively $% \left(1\right) =\left(1\right) \left(1\right) \left($ prevent diarrhea.

Product Information

Form Powder

Activity 10B CFU/g

Tel: 1-631-562-8517 1-516-512-3133 Email: info@creative-enzymes.com

1/1