Black Assam Tea Extract

Cat. No. CEFX-191

Lot. No. (See product label)

Introduction

Description	Black Assam Tea Extract is derived from the leaves of Camellia sinensis grown in Assam, India, a region known for producing robust, full-bodied tea with a deep amber hue and distinct malty flavor. This extract captures the essence of Assam tea, concentrating its unique polyphenols, caffeine, and antioxidants like catechins and theaflavins. Rich in beneficial compounds, Black Assam Tea Extract is valued not only for its potent health benefits but also for its characteristic aroma and taste, making it a popular choice in functional foods, supplements, and beauty products.
Applications	Black Assam Tea Extract is used to add flavor and health benefits to teas, functional beverages, and food products. Its strong taste complements beverages like iced teas, ready-to-drink tea blends, and tea-flavored snacks.
