Introduction

Description Bergamot fruit powder is a powder extracted from the fruit of the bergamot plant. Bergamot is rich in polyphenolic compounds, flavonoids, vitamins, minerals, and volatile oils. Polyphenols and flavonoids help scavenge free radicals, delay cellular aging, regulate blood lipids, and improve cardiovascular health. Vitamins and minerals contribute to maintaining normal bodily functions. The volatile oil components not only provide a unique aroma but also possess antibacterial and anti-inflammatory properties, making them useful for supporting the immune system. Bergamot fruit powder retains the nutritional components and aromatic characteristics of the fruit, while also offering the advantages of easy storage and transportation.
