

Amino Acid Residue (Feed Grade)

Cat. No. CEGZ-50277

Lot. No. (See product label)

Introduction

Description

Amino Acid Residue is a protein feed raw material recovered from amino acid fermentation, containing a high level of crude protein together with a broad spectrum of amino acids.

Applications

Livestock and poultry feed Protein feed ingredient

Synonyms

Amino acid residue meal Fermentation amino acid residue

Product Information

Appearance

Brown, gray-brown, or gray granules or powder containing small particles, free of caking

Form

Powder

CAS No.

N/A

Purity

Crude protein $\geq 70.0\%$

Notes

For research and development use only.

Storage and Shipping Information

Storage

Store protected from sun and rain; do not store with toxic or harmful substances. Shelf life: 24 months.