

Sheep placenta extract

Cat. No. EXTC-201

Lot. No. (See product label)

Introduction

Applications Cosmetic field, pharmaceutical field, food product field, health care product field.

Product Information

Source Sheep placenta is a rich source of nutrients, growth factors and bio-active cytokines. It is based on these bio-essentials that new life is developed. Scientific studies found that placenta contains high level of special proteins (placenta proteins), some of them promote cell growth, some of them regulate hormone secretion and some of them strengthen our immune system.

Appearance Gray fine powder

Purity 70% -80% protein

Function Restoring the body after surgery. Anti-allergy, anti-tumor. Improving memory. Preventing female infertility, miscarriage, premature. Increasing male sperm production, improve infertility (both men and women), increased sexual function. Improving the immune system, to postpone the female menopause, menopausal syndrome. Promoting breast development, postpartum sagging breasts to restore strong, flexible. Regulating the female endocrine, comprehensive and effective to improve the human skin, beauty, whitening skin, enhance skin elasticity, to dark spots, prevent wrinkles, stretch marks and aging.